OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE ACT 1986

Approved Code of Practice for Demolition of Structures

NOTICE is hereby given that pursuant to subsection 63 (1) of the Occupational Health, Safety and Welfare Act 1986, the following Australian Standard is an approved code of practice.

AS 2601-2001 Demolition of Structures

AS 2601-2001 Demolition of Structures shall be read as incorporating the 'Foreword', which is included in this notice and shall have effect three months after the date of Gazetteal.

M. WRIGHT, Minister for Industrial Relations

FOREWORD

The term 'approved code of practice' has a particular meaning under the South Australian Occupational Health, Safety and Welfare Act 1986.

An approved code of practice is designed to be used in addition to the Act and Regulations. In proceedings for an offence against the Act, where it is proved that a person failed to comply with a provision of a relevant approved code of practice, the person shall be taken to have failed to exercise the required standard of care, in the absence of proof to the contrary, (section 63A of the Act).

Thus, a code of practice provides practical guidance on how a particular standard of health and safety can be achieved. It describes the preferred methods or courses of action for achieving this standard of health and safety. However, an approved code of practice allows the flexibility to show that an equivalent or better standard of health and safety is achieved by alternative action. An approved code of practice is therefore different from a regulation where the responsible person must meet the specific requirement of the regulation.

In summary, an approved code of practice:

- provides practical guidance;
- should be followed unless there is another solution which achieves the same or a better standard of health and safety; and
- can be used to support prosecution.

Codes of Practice are approved by the Minister for Industrial Relations, following recommendation from the SafeWork SA Advisory Committee which is constituted under the Occupational Health, Safety and Welfare Act 1986.
