Explanatory Notes:

1. Standing and default contract price categories will only apply to small customers (that is, those customers who consume less than 160MWh of electricity per annum) who are purchasing electricity under AGL SA's standing or default contract terms and conditions. Standing and default contract prices apply in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) 'Daily Consumption' is the total electricity consumption for the period to which the customer's bill relates, divided by the number of days in that period;
- (b) Domestic Light/Power110:
 - applicable to all residential consumption (excluding Off-Peak Controlled Load Tariff 116) in premises used wholly or principally as private residences;
- (c) Charitable Institutions 112:
 - available to charitable institutions that have been endorsed by the Australian Taxation Office as an income tax exempt Charitable Entity under Subdivision 50-B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997;
- (d) Controlled Load 116:
 - for electricity used in permanently installed storage water heaters with a rated delivery of not less than 125 litres, storage space heaters and other approved thermal storage applications; the hours of application are fixed from time to time by AGL SA with control by time switch or other means. This price does not apply to electricity used outside those hours;
 - customers who were taking supply under this tariff, or who had applied to do so, as at 30 June 2003 are subject to the conditions which were applicable at that date;
 - this price is only available in conjunction with tariffs 110, 112, 126, 126M, 128, 128M, 140 or 140M;
- (e) General Supply 126:
 - available only to non-residential customers;
- (f) General Supply 126M (Monthly Meter Reading):
 - available only to non-residential customers;
 - applies to customers whose meters are scheduled to be read monthly, and who are billed monthly;
 - a monthly meter reading fee applies to this tariff in addition to the above prices;
- (g) General Supply Time of Use 128:
 - available only to non-residential customers with appropriate metering;
 - includes customers previously on tariffs 120 + 121 and 130 + 131 who were taking supply under those tariffs, or who had applied to do so, as at 30 June 1997. Those customers are subject to the conditions which were applicable to those tariffs at that date, in addition to the current conditions;

- (h) General Supply Time of Use 128M (Monthly Meter Reading):
- available only to non-residential customers with appropriate metering;
 - includes customers previously on tariffs 120 + 121 and 130 + 131 who were taking supply under those tariffs, or who had applied to do so, as at 30 June 1997. Those customers are subject to the conditions which were applicable to those tariffs at that date, in addition to the current conditions;
 - applies to customers whose meters are scheduled to be read monthly, and who are billed monthly;
 - a monthly meter reading fee applies to this tariff in addition to the above prices;
- (i) Obsolete Tariff 140 (formerly Farm Tariff 140):
- applies only to small customers that were taking supply under Obsolete Tariff 140, or who had applied to do so, as at 30 June 1997. Conditions applicable at that date apply, in addition to the current conditions;
- (j) Obsolete Tariff 140M (Monthly Meter Reading):
- applies only to small customers that were taking supply under Obsolete Tariff 140, or who had applied to do so, as at 30 June 1997. Conditions applicable at that date apply, in addition to the current conditions;
 - applies to customers whose meters are scheduled to be read monthly, and who are billed monthly;
 - a monthly meter reading fee applies to this tariff in addition to the above prices.
2. Peak period is 0700 hours to 2100 hours from Monday to Friday (Central Standard Time) for all tariffs other than tariff 110 except where the network meters do not recognise specific tariff days. In these situations peak period is 0700 hours to 2100 hours (Central Standard Time) each day for tariffs other than tariff 110.
3. Off peak period is all times other than peak period.
4. Where prices change during a billing cycle the bill for that billing cycle will be calculated on a pro-rata basis using:

Explanatory Notes:

1. Standing and default contract price categories will only apply to small customers (that is, those customers who consume less than 160MWh of electricity per annum) who are purchasing electricity under Powerdirect's standing or default contract terms and conditions. Standing and default contract prices apply in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) 'Daily Consumption' is the total electricity consumption for the period to which the customer's bill relates, divided by the number of days in that period.
- (b) Domestic Light/Power 110:
 - applicable to all residential consumption (excluding Off-Peak Controlled Load Tariff 116) in premises used wholly or principally as private residences.
- (c) Controlled Load 116:
 - for electricity used in permanently installed storage water heaters with a rated delivery of not less than 125 litres, storage space heaters and other approved thermal storage applications; the hours of application are fixed from time to time by Powerdirect with control by time switch or other means. This price does not apply to electricity used outside those hours;
 - this price is only available in conjunction with tariffs 110, 126Q, 126M, 128Q or 128M.
- (d) General Supply 126Q (Quarterly Meter Reading):
 - available only to non-residential customers.
- (e) General Supply 126M (Monthly Meter Reading):
 - available only to non-residential customers;
 - applies to customers whose meters are scheduled to be read monthly, and who are billed monthly;
 - a monthly meter reading fee applies to this tariff.
- (f) General Supply Time of Use 128Q (Quarterly Meter Reading):
 - available only to non-residential customers with appropriate metering.
- (g) General Supply Time of Use 128M (Monthly Meter Reading):
 - available only to non-residential customers with appropriate metering;
 - applies to customers whose meters are scheduled to be read monthly, and who are billed monthly;
 - a monthly meter reading fee applies to this tariff.

2. Peak period is 0700 hours to 2100 hours from Monday to Friday (Central Standard Time) for all tariffs other than tariff 110 except where the network meters do not recognise specific tariff days. In these situations peak period is 0700 hours to 2100 hours (Central Standard Time) each day for tariffs other than tariff 110.

3. Off peak period is all times other than peak period.

4. Where prices change during a billing cycle the bill for that billing cycle will be calculated on a pro-rata basis using:

- (a) the old price up to and including the date of change, and
 - (b) the new price from the date of change to the end of the billing cycle.

BEACH WRACK COLLECTION PROTOCOL

Background

Abalone growth in the ABA farming systems is fundamentally dependant upon animals having access to sufficient food. For animals growing in cages food may come from:

- (a) algae growing naturally on cage nets and bases;
- (b) artificial feeds fed as a supplement or as the primary food source (for cages where no naturally growing algae occurs); and
- (c) algae collected from beaches and fed to animals as a supplement to naturally occurring material.

This document provides an outline of how algae collected from beaches (Beach Wrack) will be obtained. This is the method that will be used by all ABA staff engaged in the collection of beach cast material. Note that beach wrack collection may only occur when a valid exemption permit is held by the company—the permit will specify the locations at which collection may occur.

Materials and Methods

This methodology specifies how staff should collect algae from within permit areas.

Abalone typically require up to 14 per cent of their body weight in artificial feed OR around 30 per cent of their body weight in natural algal feed per week. This makes the assumption that animals in the ABA farming system have a food conversion ratio of 3:1 (on pellets) and 6:1 when feeding on beach wrack (where FCR is the ratio of the dry weight of algae fed to animals versus the increase in whole weight of abalone measured over any period).

Wild abalone are herbivorous grazers and they feed primarily upon algae and have a strong preference for red algae (Division Rhodophyta), although selected species of brown (Division Phaeophyta) and green algae (Division Chlorophyta) can also be incorporated into the diet.

Beach Wrack Composition

Beach wrack will generally comprise a mixture of all three algal types as well as seagrass and even animal carcasses (e.g. fish, crabs etc), the proportions of which will vary both in terms of location and season. It is important to note that, while abalone may feed on seagrass, the nutritional value to the animal is very low and seagrass should not be collected.

Collections need to be targeted to appropriate species that may comprise only a small portion of the wrack accumulated at any one location. It may be necessary to visit more than one location to acquire the desired quantity. Collections should be spread across the permit areas, depending upon availability, such that any impact from collection is minimised.

Collection Permits

PIRSA Fisheries allows for the limited collection of beach wrack for commercial purposes initially through the 'Exploratory and Developmental Fisheries Policy'. If the harvest is shown to be sustainable, a Miscellaneous Fishery Licence to collect beach wrack may be issued.

Under the permit arrangements, beach wrack may be harvested from designated areas.

A condition of the permits requires submission of monthly and annual data (see Monitoring section below).

Collections

Staff will have demonstrated competency in operating vehicles in beach areas. This will include experience in retrieval of bogged vehicles and/or trailers.

All beach wrack collections are to be completed within three hours either side of low tide (i.e. a six hour window).

Employees undertaking the collection will have a copy of the relevant harvest permit with them at all times to be produced at the request of any Fisheries Officer.

Collections shall not be undertaken or will be halted if:

- The fire risk rating has been designated as 'catastrophic' (to minimise travel through bush areas when travelling to or from collection sites).
- There is damage to the designated access track either by storm erosion, flooding, overuse or mischievous behaviour.
- When, although the tide is low, wave surge pushes well up the beach.
- A vehicle becomes bogged (i.e. requiring a tow), further collection from that location will cease until the situation has been rectified.

Staff will need to be aware of:

- Nearest contact for a tow vehicle/tractor or similar in the event of becoming irretrievably bogged. If none can be on site within a favourable timeframe, consideration should be given to using two vehicles (with one on standby), or the collection should be undertaken with a quad-bike and trailer (with a larger vehicle on standby).
- Consideration and care to other beach users, fishers, swimmers, surfers, etc. Generally speaking other beach users will be present for recreational purposes and should be given 'right of way'.
- Consideration and care for wildlife, in particular marine mammals and seabirds that may be present. This awareness will include contact details for the relevant agency (Parks and Wildlife in most instances) in the event of any incident.

Hooded Plovers (Thinornis rubricollis) and Fairy Terns (Sterna nereis) are probably the birds of conservation concern most likely to be encountered by staff. Of key concern is the sensitivity of nesting areas that typically occur on the ground within dune/foreshore areas. Particular care must be taken to remain away from the upper beach and any vegetated sand, particularly during the nesting period (Hooded Plovers from August to March, Fairy Terns from September to January). Feeding birds should also be avoided.

Australian Sea Lions (Neophoca cinerea) and New Zealand Fur Seal (Arctocephalus forsteri) may haul out on mainland beaches and rock platforms.

- Staff and vehicles will be required to remain on the exposed beach and avoid disturbance of wildlife, in particular nesting birds.
- Vehicles will be restricted to a maximum speed of 40 km/h at all times while on the beach (unless a lesser speed limit is prescribed for the area being harvested when that speed will be the maximum).
- Vehicle speed will be reduced to 25 km/h when passing within 50 m of other beach users and/or wildlife feeding or resting on the beach.
- Apart from access to the beach on designated routes, no vehicles shall enter any closer than 3 m to the upper beach, dune areas or any vegetated area. Staff will also remain on the exposed beach.

For each collection:

- Staff will contact PIRSA Fishwatch (1800 065 522) at least two hours prior to commencement of harvest operations. They should report where, what time and what vehicles will be used (including registration number), e.g. ute, quadbike or vessel. If the collection is cancelled for some reason, PIRSA must be notified.
- If the collection from the site is within a short period (less than a week) of an earlier harvest, the physical area harvested should be different to that previously harvested.
- Collections should never 'clear the beach'. Ideally 30 per cent of the available material should be left undisturbed (e.g. if you are harvesting from a deposit that stretches for 100 m along the beach leave a 30 m stretch unharvested).
- This unharvested stretch should be left unharvested during subsequent visits to the same location.
- Drive along the beach to where the wrack has accumulated, staying as close as possible to the water or try to stay on established tracks, so that there is no damage to natural vegetation.
 - Staff should avoid driving over the wrack, particularly where large drifts have accumulated.
 - Vehicles will not be driven over exposed rock.
 - Vehicles will never be left unattended (one person within 10 m).
 - Staff and vehicles will remain out of the water.
- Collections shall be from the strip between high and low water marks.

- Pitch forks or spikes (similar to litter collection rods) will be used to obtain the required algae from the wrack. Material is to be loaded onto the vehicle / vessel or trailer.
- Collections should focus on red algae, in particular highly branched forms that are amongst the more palatable species. However, some green algae and more delicate brown algae may also be collected. Seagrass and tough leathery algal species should be ignored.
- Staff should repeat the above until a sufficient quantity has been obtained or they reach the geographic limits of the permit.
- Once loaded with an appropriate quantity of the target algae, employee's then return along the beach as close as possible to the water's edge, or stay on established tracks. Care should be given to allowing enough space to turn the vehicle around. Staff should also be aware that the vehicle or trailer may be significantly heavier with the load of algae.

Data recording/monitoring

Details of the collection will be recorded on DATASHEET BWC01 with information related to:

- Date.
- Location.
- GPS co-ordinates of the start and end point of the harvest, ensuring that these are within the area designated by the collection permit.
- Number of staff.
- Vehicle registration.
- Area covered by the harvest—based on the length of the beach covered (in metres) × estimated average width of the harvest (in metres).
- Volume of algae removed—based on an estimate of the amount of material collected (in cubic metres).
- Collection method.

Digital photographs will be taken of the site before and after the collection as well as at any other points required for monitoring.

Digital photographs must be taken from the same position with the same zoom settings before and after the collection. This will allow a visual assessment of the amount of algae taken during the harvest.

Catch and effort data are required as a component of the harvest with monthly reporting and an annual summary for each permit. It is therefore critical to maintain discrete data for each and every collection.

The data will form the basis of monthly and annual summaries to PIRSA.

BEACH WRACK COLLECTION PROTOCOL

Background

Abalone growth in the ABA farming systems is fundamentally dependant upon animals having access to sufficient food. For animals growing in cages food may come from

- (a) algae growing naturally on cage nets and bases;
- (b) artificial feeds fed as a supplement or as the primary food source (for cages where no naturally growing algae occurs); and
- (c) algae collected from beaches and fed to animals as a supplement to naturally occurring material.

This document provides an outline of how algae collected from beaches (Beach Wrack) will be obtained. This is the method that will be used by all ABA staff engaged in the collection of beach cast material. Note that beach wrack collection may only occur when a valid exemption permit is held by the company—the permit will specify the locations at which collection may occur.

Materials and methods

This methodology specifies how staff should collect algae from within permit areas.

Abalone typically require up to 14 per cent of their body weight in artificial feed OR around 30 per cent of their body weight in natural algal feed per week. This makes the assumption that animals in the ABA farming system have a food conversion ratio of 3:1 (on pellets) and 6:1 when feeding on beach wrack (where FCR is the ratio of the dry weight of algae fed to animals versus the increase in whole weight of abalone measured over any period).

Wild abalone are herbivorous grazers and they feed primarily upon algae and have a strong preference for red algae (Division Rhodophyta), although selected species of brown (Division Phaeophyta) and green algae (Division Chlorophyta) can also be incorporated into the diet.

Beach Wrack Composition

Beach wrack will generally comprise a mixture of all three algal types as well as seagrass and even animal carcasses (e.g. fish, crabs etc), the proportions of which will vary both in terms of location and season. It is important to note that, while abalone may feed on seagrass, the nutritional value to the animal is very low and seagrass should not be collected.

Collections need to be targeted to appropriate species that may comprise only a small portion of the wrack accumulated at any one location. It may be necessary to visit more than one location to acquire the desired quantity. Collections should be spread across the permit areas, depending upon availability, such that any impact from collection is minimised.

Collection Permits

PIRSA Fisheries allows for the limited collection of beach wrack for commercial purposes initially through the 'Exploratory and Developmental Fisheries Policy'. If the harvest is shown to be sustainable, a Miscellaneous Fishery Licence to collect beach wrack may be issued.

Under the permit arrangements, beach wrack may be harvested from designated areas.

A condition of the permits requires submission of monthly and annual data (see Monitoring section below).

Collections

Staff will have demonstrated competency in operating vehicles in beach areas. This will include experience in retrieval of bogged vehicles and/or trailers.

All beach wrack collections are to be completed within three hours either side of low tide (i.e. a six hour window).

Employees undertaking the collection will have a copy of the relevant harvest permit with them at all times to be produced at the request of any Fisheries Officer.

Collections shall not be undertaken or will be halted if:

- The fire risk rating has been designated as 'catastrophic' (to minimise travel through bush areas when travelling to or from collection sites).
- There is damage to the designated access track either by storm erosion, flooding, overuse or mischievous behaviour.
- When, although the tide is low, wave surge pushes well up the beach.
- A vehicle becomes bogged (i.e. requiring a tow), further collection from that location will cease until the situation has been rectified.

Staff will need to be aware of:

- Nearest contact for a tow vehicle/tractor or similar in the event of becoming irretrievably bogged. If none can be on site within a favourable timeframe, consideration should be given to using two vehicles (with one on standby), or the collection should be undertaken with a quad-bike and trailer (with a larger vehicle on standby).
- Consideration and care to other beach users, fishers, swimmers, surfers, etc. Generally speaking other beach users will be present for recreational purposes and should be given 'right of way'.
- Consideration and care for wildlife, in particular marine mammals and seabirds that may be present. This awareness will include contact details for the relevant agency (Parks and Wildlife in most instances) in the event of any incident.

Hooded Plovers (Thinornis rubricollis) and Fairy Terns (Sterna nereis) are probably the birds of conservation concern most likely to be encountered by staff. Of key concern is the sensitivity of nesting areas that typically occur on the ground within dune/foreshore areas. Particular care must be taken to remain away from the upper beach and any vegetated sand, particularly during the nesting period (Hooded Plovers from August to March, Fairy Terns from September to January). Feeding birds should also be avoided.

Australian Sea Lions (Neophoca cinerea) and New Zealand Fur Seal (Arctocephalus forsteri) may haul out on mainland beaches and rock platforms.

- Staff and vehicles will be required to remain on the exposed beach and avoid disturbance of wildlife, in particular nesting birds.
- Vehicles will be restricted to a maximum speed of 40 km/h at all times while on the beach (unless a lesser speed limit is prescribed for the area being harvested when that speed will be the maximum).
- Vehicle speed will be reduced to 25 km/h when passing within 50 m of other beach users and/or wildlife feeding or resting on the beach.
- Apart from access to the beach on designated routes, no vehicles shall enter any closer than 3 m to the upper beach, dune areas or any vegetated area. Staff will also remain on the exposed beach.

For each collection:

- Staff will contact PIRSA Fishwatch (1800 065 522) at least two hours prior to commencement of harvest operations. They should report where, what time and what vehicles will be used (including registration number), e.g. ute, quadbike or vessel. If the collection is cancelled for some reason, PIRSA must be notified.
- If the collection from the site is within a short period (less than a week) of an earlier harvest, the physical area harvested should be different to that previously harvested.
- Collections should never 'clear the beach'. Ideally 30 per cent of the available material should be left undisturbed (e.g. if you are harvesting from a deposit that stretches for 100 m along the beach leave a 30 m stretch unharvested).
- This unharvested stretch should be left unharvested during subsequent visits to the same location.
- Drive along the beach to where the wrack has accumulated, staying as close as possible to the water or try to stay on established tracks, so that there is no damage to natural vegetation.
 - Staff should avoid driving over the wrack, particularly where large drifts have accumulated.
 - Vehicles will not be driven over exposed rock.
 - Vehicles will never be left unattended (one person within 10 m).
 - Staff and vehicles will remain out of the water.
- Collections shall be from the strip between high and low water marks.

- Pitch forks or spikes (similar to litter collection rods) will be used to obtain the required algae from the wrack. Material is to be loaded onto the vehicle / vessel or trailer.
- Collections should focus on red algae, in particular highly branched forms that are amongst the more palatable species. However, some green algae and more delicate brown algae may also be collected. Seagrass and tough leathery algal species should be ignored.
- Staff should repeat the above until a sufficient quantity has been obtained or they reach the geographic limits of the permit.
- Once loaded with an appropriate quantity of the target algae, employee's then return along the beach as close as possible to the water's edge, or stay on established tracks. Care should be given to allowing enough space to turn the vehicle around. Staff should also be aware that the vehicle or trailer may be significantly heavier with the load of algae.

Data recording/monitoring

Details of the collection will be recorded on DATASHEET BWC01 with information related to:

- Date.
- Location.
- GPS co-ordinates of the start and end point of the harvest, ensuring that these are within the area designated by the collection permit.
- Number of staff.
- Vehicle registration.
- Area covered by the harvest—based on the length of the beach covered (in metres) × estimated average width of the harvest (in metres).
- Volume of algae removed—based on an estimate of the amount of material collected (in cubic metres).
- Collection method.

Digital photographs will be taken of the site before and after the collection as well as at any other points required for monitoring.

Digital photographs must be taken from the same position with the same zoom settings before and after the collection. This will allow a visual assessment of the amount of algae taken during the harvest.

Catch and effort data are required as a component of the harvest with monthly reporting and an annual summary for each permit. It is therefore critical to maintain discrete data for each and every collection.

The data will form the basis of monthly and annual summaries to PIRSA.

Special Conditions

Licence Term

The PELs will be offered for a five-year term with a right of renewal for two further five-year terms at the end of the initial term, with compulsory relinquishment of 3% per cent of original area at each renewal, subject to prevailing Petroleum and Geothermal Energy Act 2000 provisions.

Security

A minimum $50 000 security (amount subject to review) will be required to be lodged by the licensee prior to entering a year of licence term in which seismic or well activities are planned, or prior to undertaking earlier seismic or well activities.

Applications

Applications lodged under section 65 (1) of the Petroleum and Geothermal Energy Act 2000 are required to be made in the approved form as identified on the CD 'Cooper Basin Acreage Release CO 2010-A, B, C and D' (can be ordered from: www.petroleum.pir.sa.gov.au or the Director Petroleum and Geothermal at the address below).

Applications:

- must satisfy the requirements of Regulation 4 of the Regulations under the Petroleum and Geothermal Energy Act 2000;
- must be accompanied by a proposed work program for the first five-year term of the licence;
- must be accompanied by a statement of the financial and technical resources available to the applicant; and
- must be accompanied by the scheduled application fee.

Applications close at 4 p.m. on Thursday, 10 March 2011 (Australian Central Time).

The following special instructions for lodgement of applications should be observed:

- the application and supporting data, together with the scheduled application fee (currently $3 634 per PEL application), payable to the Department of Primary Industries and Resources SA, should be sealed in a plain envelope or package and clearly marked as 'Application for Area CO 2010-A, B or C—Commercial-in-Confidence';
- the envelope or package should then be enclosed in another envelope and posted, or delivered by hand to:

Director Petroleum and Geothermal
Minerals and Energy Resources
Department of Primary Industries and Resources SA
Level 7, 101 Grenfell Street
Adelaide, S.A. 5000

Copies of the basic exploration data pertaining to the area comprising this notice are available from the Petroleum and Geothermal Group of the Department of Primary Industries and Resources SA. Enquiries may be directed to Barry Goldstein, Director Petroleum and Geothermal (Telephone (08) 8463 3200; email: barry.goldstein@sa.gov.au).

Criteria for Assessment of Applications

The winning bidder will be selected on the basis of the five year work program bid. The work program must include a statement of exploratory operations the applicant proposes to carry out in each year of the first five-year licence term. The aim of the work program is to evaluate the prospectivity of the licence area and discover regulated resources. It is expected that at least one petroleum exploration well would be included in the five-year work program.

Bids will be assessed taking account of the criteria listed below. It is important to note that the timing of well drilling and seismic acquisition will be taken into account. The most important criteria for assessment of CO 2010-A, B or C work programs are:

- the number of exploration wells to be drilled in the licence area (development wells are not considered);
- the number of years the applicant is prepared to guarantee the program;
- the extent to which proposed wells are supported by seismic data;
- the amount and nature of seismic surveying to be carried out and its timing;
- other data acquisition (e.g. gravity, aeromagnetic or geochemical surveys);
- seismic reprocessing to be carried out;
- adequacy of financial resources and technical expertise available to the applicant; and
- the applicant's past performance in fulfilling work program commitments elsewhere in Australia.

The Minister will announce the winning bidder, together with details of the work program.

Dated 13 December 2010.
