REMUNERATION TRIBUNAL

REPORT RELATING TO DETERMINATION NO. 1 OF 2001

1. Introduction

1.1 Section 4 (1) (c) of the Parliamentary Remuneration Act 1990 confers jurisdiction on the Remuneration Tribunal to determine from time to time electorate allowances and other allowances and expenses for Members of Parliament.

1.2 On 1 November 2000 the Tribunal wrote to all Members of Parliament advising that the Tribunal will conduct a review of those allowances and expenses, having regard to existing electoral boundaries, and seeking submissions on any matter relevant to such a review, including evidence of increased costs and expenses incurred for the allowances.

- 1.3 On 6 November 2000 the following was published in The Advertiser newspaper:

REMUNERATION TRIBUNAL

Review of Electorate and Other Allowances

Section 4 (1) (c) of the Parliamentary Remuneration Act 1990 confers jurisdiction on the Remuneration Tribunal to determine from time to time electorate allowances and other allowances and expenses for members of Parliament.

Electorate allowances compensate members of Parliament for the expenses they necessarily incur in the performance of their duties.

Other allowances referred to include:

- Expense Allowances of Ministers of the Crown,
- Expense Allowances of Officers of Parliament,
- Country Member's Accommodation Allowance, and
- Travelling and Accommodation Allowances.

It should be noted that the Remuneration Tribunal does not set salaries for members of Parliament.

Interested persons, organisations and associations are invited to submit in writing any views they consider should be taken into account in the above reviews.

The closing date is 17 November 2000 and submissions should be forwarded to:

The Secretary
Remuneration Tribunal
G.P.O. Box 2345, Adelaide, S.A. 5001
Telephone: (08) 8226 4045
Facsimile: (08) 8226 4174

- 1.4 Written submissions were received from:

1.4.1 the Hon. Mark Brindal who sought an increase in the electorate and expense allowances due to increased costs associated with the running of an electorate office and that the costs of supporting and participating in his local community had increased as a result of the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax.

1.4.2 the Hon. Martin Hamilton-Smith who sought an increase in the 'Global Allowance' which is not an allowance determined by this Tribunal and the electorate and travelling allowances be increased in line with increases to the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

1.4.3 the Hon. Jamie Irwin who acknowledged receipt of the Tribunal's letter and advised that he did not wish to make a personal submission to the Tribunal;

1.4.4 the Hon. David Wotton who acknowledged receipt of the Tribunal's letter and advised that he did not wish to make a submission to the Tribunal; and

1.4.5 one member of the public who opposed any increase to the allowances on the basis that members of Parliament had received a salary increase in December 1999 and the State Government's fiscal management.

- 1.5 The Tribunal also heard oral submissions from the Hon. Bob Such who submitted that the review of these allowances should have regard to the additional cost to members brought about by the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax as well as the increased price of petrol. Dr Such also submitted there were inconsistencies in the amount of the allowances paid in suburban electorates citing that outer metropolitan areas were much bigger than inner suburban areas. He also referred to what he regarded as inconsistencies and anomalies in the application of various allowances most of which are not determined by the Remuneration Tribunal.

- 1.6 As in previous reviews conducted by the Tribunal on these allowances, there has been little information available on actual costs and therefore regard has been had to increased costs and CPI movements since the review of 1999.

2. Electorate Allowances

2.1 Electorate allowances are provided to compensate members of Parliament for the expenses they necessarily incur in the performance of their duties. A significant component of the allowance covers the cost of running a motor vehicle in the servicing of electorates. Other items of expense may include accommodation and travelling expenses (not otherwise covered), donations, subscriptions, telephone, printing, stationery and postage, without attempting to give a fully exhaustive list.

2.2 These allowances were last increased from 1 October 1999 having regard to movement in the Consumer Price Index for the period June 1998 to June 1999.

2.3 There is no evidence before the Tribunal as to the measure of increase (if any) in any of those components specifically, since the date of the last Determination. However, the Tribunal is prepared to accept that the movement in the Consumer Price Index justifies a minimal adjustment to the electorate allowances and has therefore determined new allowances as set out in the Determination.

3. Expense Allowances of Ministers of the Crown and Officers of Parliament

3.1 These allowances are to compensate Ministers of the Crown and officers of Parliament for the extraordinary expenses incurred when performing the duties of these officers and were last increased in 1999.

3.2 There is no evidence before the Tribunal as to the measure of increase (if any) in any of those components specifically, since the date of the last Determination. However, the Tribunal is prepared to accept that the movement in the Consumer Price Index since that time justifies a minimal adjustment to these allowances and has therefore determined new allowances as set out in the Determination.

4. Country Members' Accommodation Allowance

4.1 This allowance was last increased in 1999 to $140 per night and is payable to members of Parliament whose usual place of residence is more than 75 km by road from the General Post Office at Adelaide and who are required to stay in Adelaide overnight in order to attend to parliamentary duties and to also meet their duties to be actively involved in community affairs and represent and assist constituents in dealings with governmental and other public agencies and authorities.

4.2 The maximum amount payable for a 12 month period is $18 900 and this amount was also effective from 1 October 1999.

4.3 Having regard to the increased costs that have occurred since the Tribunal last adjusted these allowances in 1999 the Tribunal has determined new allowances as set out in the Determination.

5. Travelling and Accommodation Allowances of Ministers and the Leader and Deputy Leader of the Opposition

5.1 These allowances are payable when expenditure is incurred when travelling on official business with the current rates operative from 1 October 1999.

5.2 Having regard to the increased costs that have occurred since the Tribunal last adjusted these allowances in 1999 the Tribunal has determined new allowances as set out in the Determination.

6. Date of Operation

6.1 The Tribunal has decided that the provisions of this Determination, which supersede those of all preceding Determinations, with the exception of Country Members' Accommodation Allowance which shall operate from 1 July 2000, shall operate from 1 February 2001.

Dated 15 February 2001.

THE Tribunal’s Report Relating to Determination No. 2 of 2000 for members of the Judiciary, members of the Industrial Relations Commission, the State Coroner, Commissioners of the Environment, Resources and Development, stated at paragraph 5.6.2 that ‘the Tribunal is not prepared to vary the current prescription other than to provide for reimbursement of official mobile telephone calls.’
