MID YEAR BUDGET REVIEW

The Honourable Rob Lucas MLC
Treasurer of South Australia

1. ECONOMIC CONTEXT

2. 2000-01 BUDGET POSITION AND OUTLOOK

3. UNIFORM STATISTICAL PRESENTATION

1. THE ECONOMIC CONTEXT

The Australian economy continued to grow strongly in 1999-2000, partly due to a depreciated Australian dollar fostering growth through increased exports, as well as strong domestic consumption. The South Australian economy also grew solidly in 1999-2000, growing by 3.5 per cent, up from 2.2 per cent in 1998-99. Underpinning the State's solid economic performance were increased exports, private dwelling expenditure and household consumption expenditure.

Export growth has remained strong but there has been a weakening in various economic indicators since early December 2000. Expectations are for slower growth at both the national and State level in 2000-01, consistent with a slowdown in the global economy. It is expected that continued softening in national economic conditions over 2001 will lead to lower growth in South Australia in the 2001-02 financial year. Hence, South Australian forecasts reflect a slightly weaker national outlook than the Commonwealth Treasury's national forecasts, which were released in November. The slowing in economic growth is not expected to be severe as the economy responds to reduced interest rates. Projections for 2002-03 and 2003-04 have taken into consideration the expected performance of the national economy over the medium term and relative population growth rates, indicating a 3 per cent per annum economic growth rate for South Australia.

State employment growth for 2000-01 is forecast to slow to 1½ per cent per annum and 1 per cent in 2001-02, before returning to the medium term projected level of 1½ per cent thereafter.

December quarter Consumer Price Index (CPI) data showed much lower growth than had been anticipated, with a 0.2 per cent quarterly increase in Adelaide and 0.3 per cent for the eight capitals. The Adelaide CPI is estimated to increase by 5½ per cent in 2000-01, with around 2¾ percentage points due to the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax. Inflation is then expected to return to within the Reserve Bank of Australia's (RBA) target range.

Table 1 below provides a summary of key economic parameters in the next few years, for both South Australia and Australia.

(a) Commonwealth Treasury Mid Year Economic and Fiscal Outlook (MYEFO) – published in November 2000.

(b) As published in the Commonwealth MYEFO. Based on December quarter CPI data, SA Treasury and Finance estimates that the 8 capital CPI increase for the full year 2000-01 will be 5¾ per cent, somewhat lower than that estimated by Commonwealth Treasury before the release of December quarter CPI results. Of the estimated increase of 5¾ per cent, 2¾ per cent is attributed to the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax, giving a CPI (exclusive of GST) estimate of 3 per cent.

(c) Includes 3 per cent due to the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax.

(d) Includes a reduction of ¼ per cent due to the removal of FID and the stamp duty on quoted marketable securities on 1 July 2001.

(e) Includes 2¾ per cent due to the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax.

2. 2000-01 BUDGET POSITION AND OUTLOOK

Introduction

The Budget outlook and commentary presented in this section is focused on the non commercial sector underlying deficit which is the South Australian Government's primary fiscal measure. The medium term fiscal strategy of the Government is to balance the budget of the non commercial sector.

The 2000-01 revised Budget position and outlook takes into account Government decisions and economic developments impacting on both revenue and outlays of the non commercial sector since the presentation of the 2000-01 Budget.

Overview

The revised estimates for the non commercial sector are presented in Table 2. The overall financial position remains consistent with budget forecasts, with a slight improvement forecast for 2000-01. Although the variation in the underlying result is marginal, there are significant offsetting movements in revenues and outlays which include the impact of the disposal of the remaining electricity assets during the first half of 2000-01.

The budget estimates presented in May 2000 did not include the impact of the sale/lease of Flinders Power, Terra Gas trader and ElectraNet as the outcome of these transactions had not been finalised. The disposal process was completed in October 2000 and the impact on the underlying deficit is now reflected in the loss of dividends and tax equivalent payments from these entities and savings in interest costs associated with the retirement of debt from the sale/lease proceeds.

Outlays

Total outlays are expected to increase by $95 million in 2000-01 from the original estimate. This increase is mainly due to the carryover of portfolio expenditure that was budgeted to occur in 1999-2000, partially offset by lower net interest payments resulting from the sale/lease of the remaining electricity entities. Over the forward years outlays are expected to decrease by $78 million primarily reflecting lower net interest payments arising from the sale/lease of electricity entities.

Subsidies and other transfer payments relating to National Tax Reform are expected to increase due to higher grants under the First Home Owners Scheme of $27 million. In addition, the State's contribution to the Australian Taxation Office for the costs of administering the GST has been revised upwards by $14.3 million in 2000-01, and a further $10.9 million in 2001-02.

Net interest payments have been revised downwards by $201 million across the forward estimates period, mainly as a result of the sale/lease of the remaining electricity entities in 2000-01, as proceeds received from the sale/lease process are applied to the retirement of debt.

In 1999-2000, underspending by portfolios enabled additional funding for past service superannuation liabilities to be provided in 1999-2000, resulting in a saving of $42 million in 2000-01 and $58 million in 2001-02. In addition, funding required for accruing superannuation liabilities has been revised downwards by $7 million each year following an actuarial review.

Revenue

Revenue has been revised upwards by $140 million in 2000-01. Over the forward years, revenue forecasts have been revised downwards by a total of $77 million reflecting increased estimates for taxation and royalties, more than offset by a reduction in income from commercial public trading enterprises. The primary sources of these variations are discussed below.

Taxation

Taxation receipts for 2000-01 have been revised up by $58.2 million since budget. Adjusted for classification changes, the improvement since budget in taxation receipts is $66.5 million of which $65 million relates to stamp duty on a number of very large conveyancing transactions including the sale of some electricity entities. Excluding these large transactions, underlying taxation receipts are only $1.5 million above budget.

Upward revisions to gambling tax receipts are the main source of revenue gain since budget but these increases are offset by a downward revision to stamp duty on property conveyances (excluding the large 'one off' items referred to above). Although the property market has held up better than expected in the first six months of 2000-01 following the introduction of the GST, provision has been made for some weakening in stamp duty receipts in the second half of the year. Revisions to other tax lines (both upwards and downwards) result in a small net improvement against budget.

There has been an upward revision to taxation revenues of between $4 million and $6 million per annum in the forward outlook for taxation revenue beyond 2000-01 after classification changes. Upward revisions to gambling tax receipts are offset by downward revisions mainly to land tax and stamp duty on motor vehicle registrations and transfers.

Net Operating Surplus of Non Commercial Public Trading Enterprises

Forward estimates have been revised downwards by $53.6 million to reflect the corporatisation of Forestry SA. From 1 July 2001, Forestry SA will be removed from the non commercial sector and reported within the commercial sector. Net operating surplus will be replaced with dividend income from Forestry SA.

Income from Commercial Public Trading Enterprises

Income from commercial public trading enterprises has been revised across the forward years to reflect the sale of ElectraNet, Flinders Power and Terra Gas trader and the transfer of Forestry SA to the commercial sector.

Other Revenue

Revenue from mining royalties has been revised up significantly since Budget in respect of both the Cooper Basin and Roxby Downs.

Although declining production levels at the Cooper Basin continue to be reflected in the forward estimates, revised estimates assume a more optimistic price outlook, particularly in 2000-01, reflecting recent movements in international oil prices and a depreciating Australian dollar.

Royalty estimates for Roxby Downs have been revised up to reflect the completion of the most recent scaling up of operations with a further expansion expected to lift royalty levels in 2003-04. Upward revisions also reflect the benefit of higher commodity prices which have been experienced in the first half of the year. Price assumptions for the forward outlook period have been revised up to a lesser extent for 2000-01.

Dividends from SAAMC and SAFA expected to be received in 1999-2000 totalling $45.5 million have been deferred until 2000-01 as a result of portfolio underspending in 1999-2000.

Commonwealth General Purpose Grants

Although the guaranteed minimum funding amount under national tax reform is expected to exceed budget by $48 million in 2000-01, $41.3 million of this increase is attributable to, and hence offset by, increases in the cost of the First Home Owners Scheme (FHOS) and GST administration costs leaving a net budgetary improvement of $6.7 million. This improvement primarily reflects revised estimates based on more recent population and CPI data.

For the forward estimate period, an upward revision to the guaranteed minimum funding amount in 2001-02 is mainly reflective of higher GST administration costs resulting in no net budgetary improvement. Beyond 2001-02, the guaranteed minimum amount has been revised down mainly on account of revisions to revenue forgone from financial assistance grants and revenue replacement grants for petrol, liquor and tobacco.

- (b) This item is the negative of net advances paid under a cash accounting framework.

- (d) Includes both payments in excess of emerging costs of superannuation and interest earnings on employer balances.
- (e) Data on universities are no longer available.
- (f) The 2 per cent of total revenue tolerance limit around South Australia's 2000-01 LCA is $138 million.

South Australia has one infrastructure project with private sector involvement that meets the LCA recognition criteria for 2000-01. The Adelaide-Darwin Rail Link project is a joint venture involving the South Australian and Northern Territory Governments, and the private sector, to construct approximately 1400km of rail line between Alice Springs and Darwin. The project has an estimated asset value of $1.2 billion, which is to be financed with grants of $165 million each from the Commonwealth and Northern Territory, a $150 million grant from South Australia (including a $25 million loan guarantee provision), with the remainder to be provided by the successful private sector consortium. An agreement is expected to be signed by the end of 2000-01, with the project operating on a 50 year Build Own Operate Transfer (BOOT) type arrangement. The terms of the agreement are yet to be finalised, but it is anticipated that the Government would be required to meet termination liabilities only in very limited circumstances.
