Dear Mr Kelly

Final Determination—Extension of Reserve Trader Sunset

On 19 December 2002, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (Commission) received applications for authorisation (Nos A90864, A90865 and A90866) of amendments to the National Electricity Code (Code). The proposed amendments are to sections 3.12.1 (a) and 3.12.1 (b) of the code and relate to the extension of the reserve trader provisions. The current reserve trader arrangements were due to expire on 1 July 2003, however interim authorisation was granted in order to maintain the status quo within the market while the Commission considered the issues associated with the application.

On 9 April 2003 the Commission released a draft determination on the extension of the current reserve trader sunset provisions. Subsequently, on 16 April NECA lodged a variation to the proposed code change to include a consistent extension to the Safety Net Provisions and Reserve Contracting Derogation.

On 9 July 2003, the Commission released a new draft determination outlining the Commission's proposal to grant authorisation.

The Commission invited NECA and other interested persons to request a pre-determination conference or lodge submissions closing 23 July 2003. However, no such request or submissions were received. Therefore the draft determination has become the final determination.

Please find enclosed a copy of the Commission's final determination, which outlines its analysis and views on the proposed extension of the reserve trader sunset.

A person dissatisfied with the final determination may apply to the Australian Competition Tribunal for its review.
