REMUNERATION TRIBUNAL

REPORT RELATING TO DETERMINATION NO. 7 OF 2001

1. Introduction

1.1 In accordance with the provisions of the Remuneration Act 1990, the Remuneration Tribunal by letters dated 17 September, 2001 invited the Auditor-General, Electoral Commissioner, Deputy Electoral Commissioner, Employee Ombudsman and the Ombudsman to make submissions in relation to the remuneration of those respective office holders. The Tribunal also invited the Minister for Workplace Relations to make submissions in the public interest.

1.2 On 1 October 2001, the following was published in The Advertiser newspaper:

REMUNERATION TRIBUNAL

Review of Salaries for Statutory Office Holders

Section 8 (2) of the Remuneration Act 1990, requires the Tribunal to sit at least once in each year to review its previous determinations. Accordingly, the Tribunal is conducting a review of the determination incorporating the salaries payable to the following statutory office holders:

- Auditor-General;
- Electoral Commissioner;

- Deputy Electoral Commissioner;
- Employee Ombudsman; and
- Ombudsman.

Interested persons, organisations and associations are invited to submit in writing any views they consider should be taken into account in the above review.

The closing date is 12 October 2001, and submissions should be forwarded to:

The Secretary
Remuneration Tribunal
G.P.O. Box 2343
Adelaide, S.A. 5001
Telephone: (08) 8226 4045
Facsimile: (08) 8226 4174

1.3 The Tribunal received written submissions from the Electoral Commissioner and the Deputy Electoral Commissioner. The Electoral Commissioner, Deputy Electoral Commissioner and Ombudsman made oral submissions to the Tribunal on 29 October 2001, and the Auditor-General made oral submissions on 19 November 2001. In addition, the Government made written and oral submissions in relation to all of the positions being considered.

1.4 The Tribunal did not receive any written submissions from the public.

2. Auditor-General

2.1 The remuneration of the Auditor-General was last determined in Determination No. 1 of 2000 and the salary is currently $194 600 per annum operative from 1 October 2000.

2.2 The Auditor-General made submissions to the Tribunal on the following areas:

2.2.1 Changes in technology in the Department of the Auditor-General in that the Department had introduced the 'Deloittes Audit' methodology.

2.2.2 The Hindmarsh Soccer Stadium (Auditor-General's Report) Act 2001, which authorised the Auditor-General to undertake an Inquiry and report on the 'Hindmarsh Soccer Stadium Redevelopment Project'. This Act included the power for the Auditor-General to make findings of fact and law.

2.2.3 Implications of a recent High Court decision in respect to expenditure of Government funds and indemnities provided by Government.

2.2.4 The parliamentary focus on recent reports by the Auditor-General.

2.3 The Government submitted that it supported the flow on of increases similar to [public service] executives and senior officers. On that basis increases should be between 2% and 3%. Given the nature and status of the Statutory Offices, it is in the public interest that the salaries for these officers keep pace with but do not significantly exceed increases applicable to other public sector positions of similar status.

2.4 The Tribunal was advised that an increase of 3% on executives Total Employment Cost packages was effective from 1 July 2001, and that the salaries for senior public sector employees, covered by an enterprise agreement, were increased by 2% from 1 October 2001.

2.5 Whilst noting the environment in which the Auditor-General has been required to undertake enquiries in recent times, the Tribunal does not consider this to warrant an increase in the remuneration for the Office of Auditor-General above that of general increases granted to other senior executive positions. Accordingly, the Tribunal determines that the salary for the Office of Auditor-General will be $200 800 per annum, operative from 1 October 2001. Telephone rental and calls allowance for this Office will remain unaffected by this Determination.

3. Electoral Commissioner

3.1 The remuneration of the Electoral Commissioner was last determined in Determination No. 1 of 2000 and the salary is currently $112 300 per annum operative from 1 October 2000.

3.2 The Tribunal was advised by the Electoral Commissioner that developments in the roles and responsibilities of the Electoral Commissioner have been in line with expectations previously advised to the Tribunal and probably align with the improvements generally expected of the public sector. The Electoral Commissioner cited the following activities in respect of the previous 12 months:

- Local Government activity, interstate electoral events and non Government elections;
- State election planning;
- new administrative initiatives including a range of special assistance measures for disabled voters, laptop computers for electoral visitation teams and expanding the number and range of non polling day voting facilities;
- political party registrations;
- new data share agreements being reached at the federal and state levels and new protocols for roll management being developed in consultation with the national and state electoral authorities;
- The Electoral Commissioner chairing the Electoral Council of Australia which is a forum consisting of all state and territory chief electoral administrators and includes senior representation from the Australian Electoral Commission, which has a broad role in considering electoral matters of national importance.

3.3 The Electoral Commissioner also drew the Tribunal's attention to the time lag between public service executives and the statutory officer remuneration considered by the Tribunal.

3.4 The Government submissions for the remuneration for the position of Electoral Commissioner and for the position of Deputy Electoral Commissioner mirrored those made in respect to the Auditor-General.

3.5 The Tribunal has considered all submissions and has determined that the salary for this Office will be $116 000 per annum, operative from 1 October 2001. Telephone rental and calls allowance for this Office will remain unaffected by this Determination.

4. Deputy Electoral Commissioner

4.1 The remuneration of the Deputy Electoral Commissioner was last determined in Determination No. 1 of 2000 and the salary is currently $81 400 per annum, operative from 1 October 2000.

4.2 The submissions from both the Government and the Electoral Commissioner on behalf of the Deputy Electoral Commissioner in respect to a salary increase mirrored the submissions made in respect of the Electoral Commissioner. Having regard to all submissions the Tribunal has determined that the salary for this Office will be $84 200 per annum, operative from 1 October 2001. Telephone rental and calls allowance for this Office will remain unaffected by this Determination.

5. Employee Ombudsman

5.1 The remuneration of the Employee Ombudsman was last determined in Determination No. 1 of 2000 and the salary is currently $83 000 per annum, operative from 1 October 2000.

5.2 Whilst no submission was received from the Employee Ombudsman, the Tribunal has had regard to the increases applicable to executives in the public sector and has determined that the salary for this Office will be $85 800 per annum, operative from 1 October 2001. Telephone rental and calls allowance for this Office will remain unaffected by this Determination.

6. Ombudsman

6.1 The remuneration of the Ombudsman was last determined in Determination No. 1 of 2000 and the salary is currently $144 200 per annum, operative from 1 October 2000.

6.2 Although the Ombudsman did not provide a written submission to the Tribunal, the Tribunal did have the opportunity to receive oral submissions from the Ombudsman. The Ombudsman informed the Tribunal of the work that his Office had undertaken in the preceding 12 months and which would be included in his Annual Report to be tabled in Parliament and sought a similar increase to that granted to public service executives.

- 6.3 The Ombudsman also referred to legislative changes in respect to the Water Resources (Reservation of Water) Amendment Act 2001 and the Office's responsibility.
- 6.4 Having regard to these submissions the Tribunal has determined that the salary for this office will be $148 900 per annum, operative from 1 October 2001. Telephone rental and calls allowance for this Office will remain unaffected by this Determination.

Dated 30 November 2001.

NOTICE is hereby given pursuant to section 6 (2) (b) of the National Electricity Law, which forms the Schedule to the National Electricity (South Australia) Act 1996 and clause 8.3.9 (d) of the National Electricity Code approved under section 6 of the National Electricity Law, that Chapters 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 and the Chapter 10 definitions of the National Electricity Code ('NEC') are amended to deal with arrangements to allow the participation of market network service providers ('MNSPs') in the National Electricity Market ('NEM') and to amend the network connection and network pricing arrangements in the Code.

Interim authorisation was granted to those elements of the Code required to facilitate the introduction of MNSPs to the NEM. The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission ('ACCC') granted interim authorisation to the MNSP provisions in Chapters 2, 3, 4 and 7 of the Code on 6 October 1999 and these changes were gazetted on 21 October 1999. The ACCC later granted interim authorisation to the MNSP provisions of Chapters 5 and 6 of the Code on 25 January 2000. In response to concerns about the interpretation of the conditions of authorisation imposed on 25 January 2000, however, the ACCC revoked and regranted the interim authorisation on 23 February 2000. These changes were gazetted on 16 March 2000. The interim authorisation of the MNSP Code changes expires on the date of this gazettal, being 6 December 2001.

These amendments to the National Electricity Code commence on 6 December 2001.

As required by clause 8.3.9 (d) of the National Electricity Code, a copy of the ACCC's letter dated 24 September 2001 granting authorisation is set out below.

The amendments referred to above and a copy of the ACCC's letter dated 24 September 2001 can be viewed in full in the document entitled 'Network pricing and market network service providers' which can be viewed on the Internet website of National Electricity Code Administrator Limited (ACN 073 942 775) ('NECA') at www.neca.com.au under 'The Code'—'Gazette notices' section of that website.

The National Electricity Code can be viewed on the NECA Internet website at www.neca.com.au and at the offices of NECA and National Electricity Market Management Company Limited (ACN 072 010 327). A list of addresses where the Code can be viewed is available on the NECA website.

ACCC Letter of Authorisation

24 September 2001

Stephen Kelly
Managing Director
National Electricity Code Administrator
Level 4, 41 Currie Street
ADELAIDE, S.A. 5000

Dear Stephen

Applications for authorisation of amendments to the national Electricity Code—Network pricing and market network service providers determination (Authorisation Nos A90704, A90705 and A90706)

On 26 July 1999, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (the Commission) received applications for authorisation (A90704, A90705 and A90706) of changes to the National Electricity Code (code). The applications were submitted by the National Electricity Code Administrator (NECA) under Part VII of the Trade Practices Act 1974 (TPA). The proposed amendments to the code outlined in the applications deal with arrangements to allow the participation of market network service providers (MNSPs) in the National Electricity Market (NEM).

At the same time, NECA also submitted an application to vary the NEM access code (access code) to encompass changes to the network connection and network pricing arrangements. The authorisation and access code applications were amended on 18 August 1999, at which time NECA also sought authorisation of the network pricing code changes and an approval to vary the access code to take into account the MNSP code changes.

NECA requested that interim authorisation be granted to those elements of the code required to facilitate the introduction of MNSPs to the NEM. The Commission granted interim authorisation to the MNSP provisions in chapters 2, 3, 4 and 7 of the code on 6 October 1999; and to the MNSP provisions in chapters 5 and 6 of the code on 25 January 2000. In response to concerns about the interpretation of the conditions of authorisation imposed on 25 January 2000, the Commission revoked and regranted the interim authorisation on 23 February 2000.

Enclosed is a copy of the Commission's determination in respect of these applications for authorisation. The Commission's determination outlines its analysis and views on the proposed code changes.

In its review of these code changes, the Commission has identified a number of provisions that will detract from the public benefit or increase the level of anti-competitive detriment attributable to the implementation of these arrangements. Therefore, the Commission proposes to grant authorisation, conditional upon a number of amendments to the proposed changes being made. The conditions are specified in Chapter 11 of the determination. The Commission proposes to limit the period of the authorisations to 31 December 2010, except for those code changes that have earlier termination dates.

In accordance with s.101 of the Trade Practices Act 1974, a person dissatisfied with the Commission's determination may apply to the Australian Competition Tribunal for a review of the determination. Each application must be lodged on the appropriate form within 21 days of the date of the determination, with the Registrar of the Tribunal. The Tribunal is located in the office of the Registrar of the Federal Court in each State.

A copy of this letter together with the determination will be placed on the Public Register kept by the Commission.

M. RAWSTRON, General Manager, Regulatory Affairs—Electricity.
